

ORDER WORK ON ARTS BUILDING TO CEASE

ISSUE ORDER CALLING FOR CESSATION OF OPERATIONS AT TWELVE NOON TO-DAY

Information Made Public Last Night — Blowing of Whistle Will Mark Time When Work Is to Stop — No More Drilling and Blasting — Claim Action Absolutely Necessary and Irrevocable — Member of Firm Issues Statement Concerning Momentous Action.

The work on the long awaited and all but practically assured new Arts Building would cease promptly at the noon hour to-day is the essence of a long statement offered to the Daily last night for publication by an authoritative member of the firm of contractors who were to have built the new structure. "The men will lay down their picks and shovels; the power will be turned off and the steam shovel will cease to dig out huge slices of earth from behind the present edifice. Professors will no longer be harassed by the noise which this work has been causing," in this way the contractors went on to describe what would happen at noon to-day.

There is absolutely no possibility of this order being revoked during the course of the morning it was ascertained. "We are determined that the work will cease promptly when the clock strikes twelve," was the way another prominent member of the firm put it.

The news that work on the New Arts Building is to cease abruptly at twelve noon today will no doubt come as a distinct surprise to many who felt sure that work was in full and irrevocable swing. But the work actually WILL cease at the appointed hour.

A shrill whistle blast, very similar in nature to the kind emanating from factories at this particular hour will be the signal to workmen to lay down their tools and cease performing their accustomed duties. Absolutely nothing can be done to reverse the order as it stands at present. Many fond dreams will be shattered.

What the plans of Corporation or the Board of Governors are in the light of the new and startling circumstances are not yet known. The Daily was unable to learn last night what action the University would take in this momentous matter due to the extreme lateness of the hour in which this piece of information was brought to light. However it is understood that definite plans are under consideration as the students will have to be informed, in order that they may know if they can be accommodated next year.

The only other information on the subject was gleaned from the foreman of operations, with whom the Daily was able to get into communication by telephone. He said, "It is absolutely necessary that work in this new building cease at the hour now mentioned due to the fact that it is the men's lunch hour and a time for rest. If we did not order the men to cease at this hour a strike would no doubt be precipitated, and what with the rapidly rising power of the labouring classes and the proletariat in general we cannot afford in any way to annoy our manual workers who are absolutely essential to our purpose."

"However, I see no reason why the work should not recommence after the men have partaken of their mid-day meal," he concluded.

The market reports to-day show a

Ice is Cold and Fire is Hot Admits Dr. Stables Boil City Finally Saved

Boil City, Papia, March 24—Dr. Edward T. Stables, professor of chemistry at MonGrel University has finally succeeded in his great mission and Boil City is saved. The Boil has not burst. For three days and as many nights Dr. Stables has been trying to solidify the fire which has been threatening the city's principal structures. The citizens have been frantic and Dr. Stables still more frantic at the apparent failure of the first three days and two nights attempts, but at last success has crowned his efforts and Boil City has been saved. By the use of specially constructed capsules shipped from New York for the purpose Dr. Stables succeeded in solidifying the mighty flames which were slowly but surely pushing their way to the city slaughter house.

HOLDS DISCUSSION ON POTBALL AND POTBAL

MonGrel's chances for a rocky championship were discussed inside and out, backwards and forwards, upwards and downwards, from all angles of the compass, not to mention the other numerous viewpoints and outlooks, when at a very late hour last night, a MontGrel reporter spent an evening over the beer bottle with Couch Frank Hennessey, mentor of the MonGrel potball, rocky, and horseshoe-throwing team. FORTNIGHTLY EDITORS ARE ALL EXPELLED

The editors of the McGill Fortnightly Review, an independent journal of literature and student opinion published here have been asked to withdraw from the University, according to an announcement made last night.

It is understood that this is the outcome of a secret probe which was conducted into the affairs of the journal. The committee investigating brought in its decision, and the editors are to be officially ejected from McGill.

This means that ToolBorn, Sol, Smuts, Drapem and Wheedle must leave the University. This is what the Daily has been advocating right along. Its policy is thus endorsed!

DON'T KICK MOTHER WHEN SHE IS DOWN

Subject of Interesting Talk
Before St. Michael's
Last Night

(Special to MonGrel Daily)

Moronto, March 22—Algon pervaded the meeting of St. Michael's Literary Club last night when "Humour in Modern Poets" was discussed. The entire club turned out and all delivered stirring speeches. Eugene Field's beautiful axiom, "Don't kick your mother when she's down" was the subject of an impassioned address by George Flahiff. Wild and prolonged cheering greeted the announcement that William Donahue had won the Horrible Poem contest from the defending champion, Francis Mallon. "I think yours is a little better, William," said Father McCorkell, the judge, vainly congratulating Mr. Donahue, who was taken out and tapped by his admirers. The prize was a set of the works of Edgar Guest in Braille.

An elocution contest was then held during which Mr. George Palmer was disqualified for hitting the table. The honours were awarded to Mr. Hugh Haffey who recited "Welland Good." Telegrams of regret were received from Thomas Hardy, Leon and Henri Bourassa.

MARBLE TEAM IS IN SHAPELY FORM

Hooch Van Hagner Stresses
Combinations And Team
Play

The MonGrel university marbles team held a light workout in the Dundas high school gymnasium last night. About 5000 aspirants turned out to try for positions on the various teams. From the 50000 and some odd number two teams will be chosen each consisting of 100 men. These teams will represent MonGrel university in the intercollegiate Marble Union.

Just before top boys went to ice heavy work coach Van Hagner gave a short, inspiring talk and explained to them the finer points of the game. The coach especially stressed combinations and team play, and tried to show how it is possible by working by design to take your opponents by surprise and make a clean sweep of it at the last moment.

This year's team looks especially strong. E. P. Moran, former captain of the MonGrel marble team is turning out regularly and is showing his excellent form. This year's captain, Tan, Quackenbush is showing real ability and can be depended up to come through at the last moment and make perfect rings. Two Freshmen are also showing their good forms and have the makings of high glass marble artists. To Jong although he comes from Ottawa can sure make those marbles jump. His specialty is long shots and many a marble game will be won owing to his ability to put a long one into the little round circle. Galle Rossman another Freshman has been showing some fine combinations and fine shots. A little less missing and he will develop into a first class marble player.

In an interview after the practise coach Van Hagner told the MontGrel reporter that he expects some stiff opposition from the other universities, as ever. The coach it was stated also

Parties To Be Probed? Yes, Is Claim

Parliament met again last night to a stormy session in the MontGrel Union under the presidency of the M.R. Hon. Jacques Spectator.

The crash came when the Hon. leader of the Opposition the Rt. Hon. Yorden Bairn asked a question of the M.R. Hon. Jacques Spectator.

"I should like to know," said a smile lit up his features as he exploded the bombshell. "If I may say so, other probes have been ended. We couldn't probe some scandals in the Union."

"Let's" the Prime Minister stated (at a late hour last night.)

"Fine," declared Bairn. His voice rose to a shout. "We will investigate parties in the Union—secret ones." (General consternation.)

The committee named was: Rack Jimson; A.B.C. McLane; Leo Shwartz and Doug A. Dam.

ECONOMICAL AND HYSTERICAL ASS.

Debate at MonGrel Union
This Evening
OR TOMORROW

Evening or Perhaps the Evening After That

The Economical Club and the Hysterical Ass. will meet in joint session 67th March 25th debate at the MonGrel Union here this evening or perhaps the day after it was stated at Rathgaur Hall, home of the S.A.C. at a late hour last night.

The chief speakers of the evening will be the landlord of the Hysterical Ass. and Bairn of the Economical Club. It is understood in some circles, though denied by others, that the subject for discussion will be the hysterical background of practical economy. The hysterical aspect will be treated by Bairn of the Economical Club while the landlord of the Hysterical Ass. will not say anything, being of Tweedish extraction.

After the principal speeches have been completed and the professors driven out (to see their uncles) a general discussion is expected to take place. It is understood that the eminent libertine and free-lover E. M. Doolittle will venture some of his select opinions. Possibly Mr. Poregee, of the graduate school who will represent MonGrel at Lyhead next year will also talk. At any rate it is known that he has brought some thought case for the occasion.

Among those present will be (if they are there), Prof. Wow of the dept. of Hysteria, Prof. Steam chuck Connellich, Night and Hound of the Economical Department.

MISS SCRIBBLER

Crazy Over New Scheme and Anxious to Begin — Like Necking

Wrestling and boxing will be compulsory for McGill women students it was announced by Doctor Lam and Doctor Harvey-Jelly yesterday afternoon. "Both these exercises are conducive to the maintenance of good figures, which is the principal duty of this university," said Dr. Lam. "In Australia all the women are compelled to wrestle for fifteen minutes every day with a sister, classmate or brother, and in doing so they develop beautiful figures, as I well know. You will remember how it sneaks in the Acts of the Apostles about Jacob wrestling with an angel—presumably a female one—we want McGill girls to develop the characteristics of angels. They will have to attend nine-eighths of the classes, and interfacially meet will be arranged."

"In accordance with the policy of this university to make all students take six hours of physical drill every day for nine-eighths of the current term, we shall compel all women to take up wrestling and boxing with each other. We feel that women have to hold their own in this world and in accordance with this plan we shall instruct the girls in the use and abuse of the neck-twist, hammer-lock, strangle-grip, and toe-squeeze."

Miss Scribbler, president of the Women Students Assassination Incorporated, said that the girls are crazy about it, and they have been practising hard with their dates. Miss Cartwheel said that Stanislaus Zbyso had been chosen as coach with a salary of 158,384 cents a year. The Principal of MonGrel university, when he heard the news, tore his

W. E. Snobik Says That European Students No Good At All

The Kampus Steady Kroup under the able leadership of Mr. Ol. A. Moran, assisted by J. (Clock) M. See Quackworth last night at an enthusiastic meeting held in Strathmore Hall decided that athletics at MonGrel were worthy of support. It was felt that a $10 levy would be inadequate and it was emphasized that action be taken to get more money out of the average undergrad. "Make 'em pay," declared Boozor Monsoon, one of these present. "Vee" remarked Chuckwack. "Then arose Welke Ezrik Snobik. He puffed. He grew red in the face. He took out a cigar. He lit it. He put it back into his pocket. He gaped. He was launched into a monster attack against the European students.

"Here" he said, "is where the students really know what Culture is. Nowhere else have the police realized the significance of the famous German saying 'Ach was ein Butterflieg.'" As the famous humorist J. Sessage Wirely says "It is better to get drunk and have knowledge than to have knowledge and be drunk."

At this stage a storm of applause swept him from off his feet. He collapsed. The MontGrel Yell was then exuberantly reinforced.

This morning the following comment appeared in the MontGrel Tribune Herald: "We feel that the Kampus Kroup is no good. It is a matter of fact suppressable. The Kroup should be suppressed." (Signed) E. W. Gurgleson.

Matzos Are Required In Union Cafe

That the MacBenn Circle favors the establishment at MonGrel University of a kosher section in the Union Cafeteria of MonGrel University was an enormous decision arrived at yesterday afternoon at a stormy meeting of the Circle held in the Union Lounge.

Jeckberg, the president was of the opinion that the idea was a good one providing that there would be adequate indication of the increased patronage at the Cafe. B. Land Fong seconded the motion.

A motion was passed that if the thing was immediately inaugurated matzos would be made available at once.

The meeting closed with the singing of "Ah Let's be Joyful."

Smith Brothers Commit Fratricide When Decision Announced

That "Old MonGrel 1827" the year of MonGrel University would be dedicated to the famous Lydia Pinkham was the announcement made by Helen S. Joss editor-in-chief at a late hour last night. In view of the fact that Lydia had done so much to relieve the sufferings of mankind it was resolved to dedicate the mighty volume to her. It is understood that the editors have secured a picture of Lydia in all her pristine vigour when first she discovered those marvelous concoctions of hers that have done so much for the world.

When the news was announced it is related that the famous Smith Brothers committed fratricide (mutually) because they were surely disappointed at not being themselves chosen for this signal honour.

In other circles it is stated that S. Boss Darkness the many editor succeeded at reviving the Smith brothers with one of their own cough drops. However it is averred and alleged by still.

FOUR TOTEM POLES GIVEN TO MUSEUM

Experts Now Investigating History
UNIQUE

In Well Preserved State With Colouring Still Exceedingly Brilliant

Four unique totem poles, of a type never before discovered in modern times, with their colouring almost as brilliant as on the day long ago when they must first have been raised on the faraway snow covered borders of the Northwest, have been presented to the Ridpath Museum. These totem poles first came to notice on the morning of March 15th when they were found by the campus groundman decorating the ancient pillars of the venerable Arts Building. They were immediately taken down, much to the polite chagrin of the laureates of McGill College, but it is now generally conceded that the water course was adopted in preserving the poles from the weathering blasts so that they can be included for all time in the collection at the Ridpath Museum.

The exact period of history to which the totem poles belong has not as yet been satisfactorily ascertained, nor has the tribe or race of peoples which were responsible for their manufacture. It is generally agreed that the towering and flaming poles have been seen more of life than that within the confines of the Arctic Circle. "Something," exclaimed Dr. R. L. Iokoku who is terribly enthusiastic over these new additions to his learned walls and halls, "something tells me that they have looked down on present freezing streams and the blighted grass. I could almost swear that they have been raised in some palatial building and have received the homage of fair ladies and brave men in a bolder day than ours."

He termed as mere conjecture the statement made by Totem Toti Toti that there was some connection between the graves of the Algonquins and the appearance of the totems on the site of Hochelaga. The whole matter is declared is worthy of the utmost consideration and cannot be lightly passed over with the flick of the pen, even the pen of Mr. Toti.

A basis of experts are now busy tracing out the history of totem poles in an endeavour to determine the exact point at which these specimens fit in. Professor Darn, amidst those thus engaged, pointed out that what George Washington said regarding totem poles, could not hold repetition in a mixed class. The men present immediately withdrew.

May Use Dial As Roulette Wheel, Claim

At a demonstration before the Sickly Franciscan and the Oriental Society, the Hell Telephone Coy. showed by means of a boy of operators chosen at the weekly beauty contest how it was impossible to get the right number on the Rottermater telephone. The company had several schizoid cards set up and showed that only three thousand out of every thousand calls are wrongly connected. Miss Ima Nutt, M.D., Chief operator of Hotair Exchange said that when the Antecater telephone was not in use the dial could be used as a roulette wheel, the company collecting a rake off on all games. Miss R. U. Sluzle, chief linesman of the Dumbell Telephone Coy., gave a demonstration of pole climbing which was very much enjoyed by all present. Because of the fine attention all the members were given the private number for the free use of pay stations. In return the joint chairman of the meeting presented a check of two rombos to the Orphanage for Old Operators. The meeting closed with the presenting of chocolate bars to the demonstrating girls.

Smith Brothers Commit Fratricide When Decision Announced

G. S. Maclovitchsky was drowned yesterday afternoon in the basement of the Union while practising for the MonGrel university Rowing Club. Several prominent students saw the deceased enter the Union and walk downstairs to the basement. When last seen he was carrying a towel and some soap in his hands and was entering the room where the boats are being kept. As yet the body has not been found but feverish efforts are being made to recover the corpse. The whole basement of the Union has been dragged and all the showers have been carefully hunted to find traces of the body.

Maclovitchsky is a member of Haris 27 and was a popular figure around the campus. His fame as a cartoonist has spread as far as West-mount. The victim of yesterday's drowning tragedy is a resident of Quebec city and came to MonGrel University because he did not have anything else to do. The Campus will now have an altogether different appearance now that the beaming face of Maclovitchsky will not be seen in it again. The rowing coach expressed his sympathies and stated that Maclovitchsky was one of his best pupils and would have, if fate had been kinder, been responsible for many a MonGrel victory on the river or lake.
